HUNTINGTON NAMES RENEE CSUHRAN AS NEW DIRECTOR OF COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Huntington (NASDAQ: HBAN; www.huntington.com) has named Renee Csuhran as the Director of Commercial Real Estate. She brings more than 20 years of executive experience in commercial real estate, corporate banking and risk management. She will be based in Cleveland and will report to Nick Stanutz, Huntington’s senior executive vice president of the Asset Based Lending, Commercial Real Estate and Auto Finance Group.

“Renee came to Huntington with a strong commercial real estate and credit risk management background that will allow us to continue to promote a strong risk culture,” said Stanutz. “We have a disciplined growth strategy around commercial real estate, and Renee’s broad-based experience will help Huntington successfully manage and grow the segment.”

Before joining Huntington in 2012, Csuhran spent more than 20 years at KeyCorp in Cleveland, Ohio in various senior-level roles, including executive vice president and director of institutional real estate, real estate investment banking, and healthcare groups, executive vice president and director of credit risk management, and executive vice president and national client segment manager of real estate capital.

In these roles, Csuhran oversaw the management of a $10 billion loan portfolio, implemented credit processes, monitored asset quality and credit exposure, and led credit due diligence and loan review teams.

Csuhran is a 2005 Greater Cleveland YWCA Woman of Professional Excellence award winner. She has a bachelor’s of science degree in business administration and finance from Bowling Green State University, an MBA from the Weatherhead School of Management, Case Western Reserve University, and a certificate in RMA Advanced Risk Management from The Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania.
