PHYSICIAN AT THE EVERETT CLINIC NAMED PROVIDER OF THE YEAR

Everett, WA-- Snohomish County Medical Assistants (SCMA) has recognized Dr. Dianna Chamblin, physician at The Everett Clinic, as Provider of the Year.

SCMA recognized Dr. Chamblin for her support of medical assistants employed at The Everett Clinic and for her dedication to the medical community of Snohomish County.

"She not only consistently exceeds our expectations for service excellence and positive teamwork, but also provides a personal touch in the advocacy for her patients and customers," says Barbara Sinclair, medical assistant for The Everett Clinic. "Many of the staff and providers appreciate her for the strong support she offers us, on both a professional and personal level."

Dr Chamblin joined The Everett Clinic in 1993 and is the Director of the Occupational Health Center. She is a Fellow of the American Academy of Disability-Evaluating Physicians and a Fellow of the American Academy of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. She is board certified in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and is also certified as a Medical Review Officer by the Medical Review Officer Certification Council.

"Dr. Chamblin demonstrates that she is highly motivated to do the right thing for her patients, employer customers and other providers, regardless of added responsibility and time," says Marti Bradley, Manager of Occupational Health at The Everett Clinic. "She does all this while maintaining such a positive outlook and energy, putting effort into accomplishing common goals."
