GALCO INTERNATIONAL'S COWBOY GUN LEATHER

The machine pictured on the left is a 100-year-old harness stitcher discovered in a rusted state of disrepair. At the hands of the artisans, craftsmen and machinists at Galco, it has been completely restored, refinished, and refitted until closely resembling a work of art.

The same handling and care can be seen in each of Galco's Cowboy Gun Leather products. For instance, the holster rig, also a century old invention, was once considered strictly a utilitarian item. However, when produced in the Galco tradition, it is an example of craftsmanship to behold. A hand-rubbed and buffed finish, hand-fitted and formed molding, and hand-grooved channel stitching combine to create the finest holster rigs to be found.

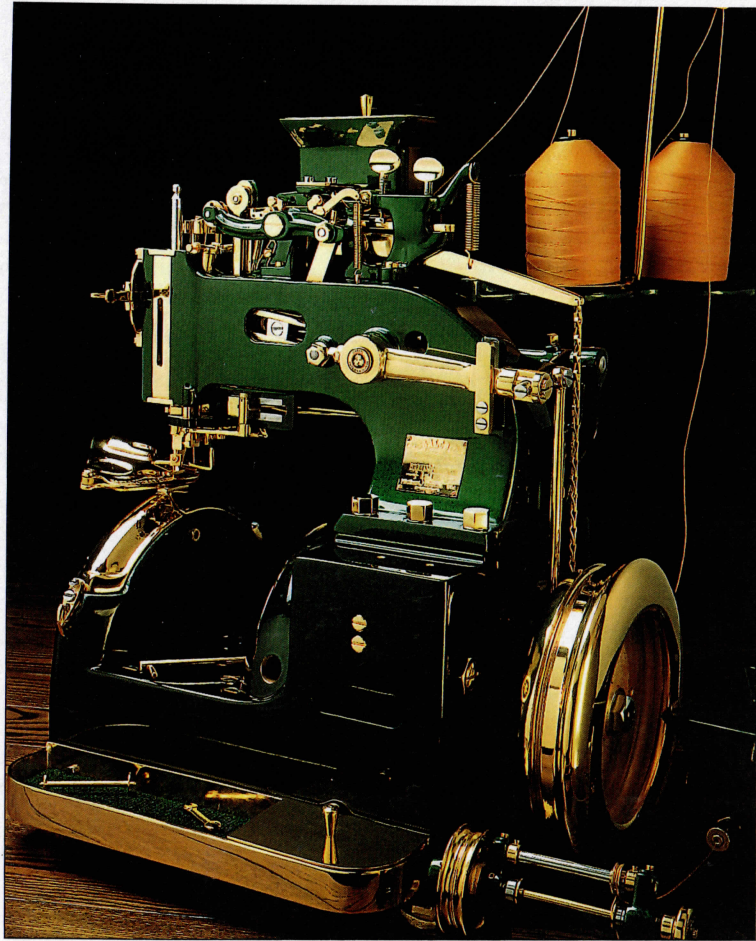

All Galco western rigs are designed from a selected time period, and made with a collection of bark-tanned saddle, skirting and tooling leathers – all premium grades that are in short supply and very difficult to find.

Each holster is stitched with independently locked stitches, and dyed in a hand-mixed color best suited to the individual style.

All buckles, conchos and hardware are designed in the Galco silver shop and made in the Galco foundry, using the lost wax method of casting. While most ordinary buckles are made of brass, Galco uses jewelers bronze, which contains a greater percentage of copper and is considered to be of higher quality.

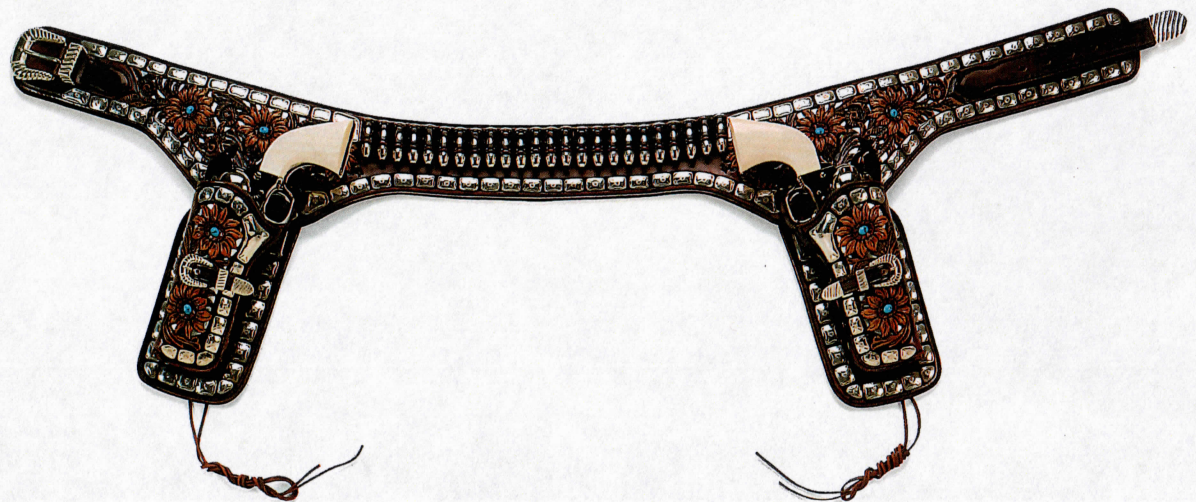

Galco buckles also are superior due to a precision fit to the belt, and a buckle tongue that is cast instead of wire formed.

Buckles and conchos may be custom ordered in sterling silver or 18k gold.

ABOUT OUR COVER HOLSTER RIG...

This handmade museum quality work of art took 355 hours to create. The carving and silver work is an original design concept of Galco's custom shop. Each of the 178 pieces of sterling silver was handmade and individually fitted to the rig. The hand-carved flowers are three-dimensional, raised, filigreed and inlaid with genuine morenci turquoise. The lining was completely scroll carved by hand.

Warning - Important Consumer Information

These warnings should be read prior to the use of Galco products. All firearms are potentially dangerous weapons. Use of a handgun under any conditions may be dangerous. Serious personal injury or even death could occur without proper training in the safe handling of firearms by an accredited firearms safety course. No person should handle any firearm unless such person has successfully passed an accredited firearms safety program. Great care should be used when handling, storing or transporting firearms or when placing or removing a handgun from your Galco holster. Never place a loaded handgun in a holster without first testing, in an unloaded condition, for proper fit with the handgun. Carrying any handgun with a live cartridge in the chamber immediately in front of the firing pin may cause an accidental discharge. Single action revolvers should be carried with the hammer or firing pin resting on an empty chamber. It is the user's responsibility to exercise extreme caution when handling or carrying any handgun, and to assume at all times that the gun is loaded. Do not attempt to cock a handgun while it is in the holster. Cocking the weapon while holstered can cause damage to the holster, gun or both and may cause an accidental discharge.

Galco holsters are designed to fit factory equipped handguns. The use of trigger shoes or grip adapters or any modifications to the handgun may cause improper holster fit and accidental discharge. All Galco holsters are designed to function safely and are made for specific handguns. Any alteration to the holster or using a holster with a gun for which it was not made could also render an unsafe condition. It is the user's responsibility to personally check for holster handgun compatibility using actual products. It is also the user's responsibility to regularly check the holster and its hardware (including, but not limited to snaps and screws) not manufactured by Galco for proper fit and function. Should any Galco product become worn, loose, broken, defective or ill-fitting, cease use immediately.

Please be certain that your gun is securely seated in the holster before use. Keep fingers clear of trigger when drawing or replacing handgun in holster. For maximum safety, holster retaining straps must be used when provided. During vigorous physical activity, such as running, the gun should be held in place with your hand to prevent the gun from falling out of the holster. We strongly recommend a regular practice routine be utilized to assure the continued capabilities of both product and user.
